Burns suffered by Harold W. Wilt, 8, while playing in a tent yesterday afternoon near his home 14 miles southeast of Marion caused his death today at 6 a. m. The Wilt farm is on Cardington R. F. D. No. 1.

The boy with several companions among them Richard Rengert, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Rengert of 581 Cherry street were spending the afternoon at their improvised tent at the farm home. Harold was lying in the middle of the straw and the tent was closed when it accidentally caught fire from matches with which the children had been playing. Unable to find his way out of the tent in the thick smoke he was caught in the flames until he finally managed to stumble out into the air, his clothes burned from him and his body and face a mass of deep burns. He leaves his parents, Frank E. and Mary F. SENATE BODY OKAYS RELIEF WHEAT PLAN

McNary To Seek Passage of Bill Diverting 50,000,000 Bushels

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—A favorable report on the McNary resolution authorizing use of 50,000,000 bushels more of farm board wheat for relief was voted today by the senate agriculture committee.

The action was taken without a record vote, Chairman McNary announcing the committee had approved it unanimously.

Congress already has authorized use of 40,000,000 bushels by the Red Cross for relief and Chairman John Barton Payne of that organization notified McNary this week there was enough on hand to last through the summer.

Payne said approximately 15,000,000 bushels remained uncommitted.

As this store would be exhausted before congress can reconvene next fall McNary will press for authorization of the additional amount before congress adjourns.

Gangster Sought in Lindy Kidnap Case Surrenders

Harry Fleisher, "Purple Gang" Leader, Gives Self Up in Detroit; Also Wanted in Connection with Apartment Massacre.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., June 9—Harry Fleisher, alleged leader of the Purple gang and sought for months in connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping and Detroit's Collingwood apartment massacre, surrendered to police today. He was accompanied to police headquarters by two attorneys.

Fleisher, well dressed, appeared extremely nervous. He held a handkerchief over his face as though expecting to [illegible] newspaper photographers but none was in the room when he arrived.

He was taken to the office of Prosecutor Harry S. Toy. The prosecutor went into conference with Fleisher and his attorneys.

Loses Nervousness

After Fleisher came from the prosecutor's office seemingly his nervousness and posed for photographers. He refused to answer questions.

"Where did you get that [illegible] Texas or in Canada?" he was asked.

Fleisher shrugged his shoulders.

"Did you have anything to do with the Lindbergh kidnaping?" he was asked.

Again he shrugged his shoulders and said nothing.

Harry Fleisher

Prosecutor Toy said he had instructed police to notify federal bureau of investigation [illegible] here since he [illegible] Fleisher [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] will be arraigned Friday in [illegible] court on a warrant [illegible] for several months charging him with complicity in the Collingwood massacre.

The prosecutor said Fleisher would remain in custody of the state until all charges here have been investigated. He said police at Trenton, N. J., have been notified that Fleisher is here and available for questioning by them in connection with the Lindbergh case.

"I asked Fleisher about the Lindbergh case but he won't talk to me," the prosecutor said.

Arrest Was Near

Detectives said they believed Fleisher gave himself up because police had information of his whereabouts and his arrest was only a matter of time. Edward S. Kennedy, Fleisher's attorney, who appeared at headquarters with him, said he was satisfied of Fleisher's innocence in the Lindbergh kidnaping and the Collingwood slaying.

He made no further reference to the Lindbergh case and indicated his purpose in having Fleisher surrender was to attempt to win freedom for Harry Keywell, Irving Milberg and Raymond Bernstein, Purple gangsters, now serving life sentences for the Collingwood massacre which resulted in the death Sept. 16 last of three racketeers following a [illegible] feud.

Kennedy indicated that Fleisher had information which would change the complexion of the Collingwood case.

Investigator Finds Incendiary Origin To Blame for Apartment Flames; 11 Known Dead.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 9—The Ellington apartments fire was of incendiary origin, Assistant State Fire Marshal Val Hafner said today.

His flat pronouncement was made after a 24-hour investigation of the blackened ruins from which 11 bodies have already been taken and in which it is believed at least three more lie buried.

Hafner said he had not yet gathered sufficient evidence to warrant any arrests.

Although it was brought out that the odor of gasoline was first noticed Monday morning, about 18 hours before the explosion shortly after midnight Tuesday, Hafner said he was not yet [illegible] divulge details but [illegible] full report "when the time was ripe."

Meanwhile statements were being taken from tenants and witnesses for the purpose of turning the investigation over to the grand jury for criminal action.

Hafner said the investigation has been hindered by the fact that debris from five floors cover the source of the explosion in the rear of a barber supply shop on the ground floor.

"I have definite information that the fire was of an incendiary origin," Hafner said. "I have established the fact that there was a strong odor [illegible] building [illegible] [illegible]

MERRELL GETS RESIGNATION

Surveyor Acts When Highway Department Replaces His Appointees.

FOUR MEN ARE REMOVED

Democrats Take Places of Republican Employes on State Projects

Cecil R. Leavens, Marion county surveyor, yesterday resigned as resident engineer for the state highway department in the climax of what appears to be a political fight over state highway work in this county.

Leavens' resignation effective yesterday was presented to O. W. Merrell, state highway director, after the men employed by Leavens to assist him in state highway work here had been replaced by his superiors, Leavens said this morning.

Five men employed by Leavens as assistants in state highway work here, all Republicans, have been replaced by Democrats in the last 10 days, Leavens said. Only one employe of Leavens' choice remains on the job and he will finish his work this week, the surveyor said.

Leavens' Statement

"My resignation," Leavens said, "was submitted because all of my appointees for whose work I was responsible were removed and replaced by the department." He explained that he did not care to be responsible for work done by men other than those of his own selection.

Leavens pointed out that two of the five men who have replaced Leavens' appointees were defeated in the race for nomination as Democratic candidates for county surveyor in the May 10 primary. He named them as being Herbert R. Kribs and Henry D. Moran.

Leavens' first appointee to be removed by his superiors, he said, was Clyde C. Caldwell, assistant resident engineer and Republican nominee for county surveyor. He was replaced May 30 by Herbert R. Kribs, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination as county surveyor. Leavens said Caldwell is also deputy county surveyor.

Three more of his appointees, Leavens said, were removed Monday and the fifth was removed Tuesday. Walter Johnson, Harold Lauer, Walter Sage and W. C. Bailey were replaced by Henry D. Moran, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination as county surveyor, J. W. Schwaderer, Arden Milliron and Harold P. Thomas, Leavens asserted.

Little Still on Job

W. H. Little is the only Leavens appointee remaining on the state payroll in the county today and he will finish his work on the highway this week according to Leavens.

Leavens could offer no explanation for the replacement of his men here. He said that his ap

Rev Koch To Conduct Revival Campaign Here

Services of the Church of God on West Center street have been moved to a tent on Oak street one block north of Silver street. Evangelistic services are being conducted each night at 7:30 with the pastor Rev D T Koch in charge. Visiting ministers are expected to be here to assist in the services which will continue for six or more weeks.

Last night Rev Koch spoke on "Some of the Essential Qualities of a Successful Meeting," in which he stressed the importance of the operation of the Holy Ghost in the services and in the lives of the people. He said "Too many people at the present time are seeking mere entertainment in the church. They would reduce the spiritual worship of God to the level of the movie theater or other common place of amusement. The paramount need of the present time is a radical return to the old time Holy Ghost preaching of apostolic days in which men were made to cry out 'What must we do to be saved.'"

THE GUMPS

BY SIDNEY SMITH

STILL TOO HORRIFIED TO SPEAK- EVEN TO YELL FOR HELP- HENRIETTA STANDS LIKE A BIRD THAT IS HYPNOTIZED- IN THE COILS OF SOME DREADFUL SERPENT ABOUT TO DEVOUR HER- SHE TRIES IN VAIN TO CALL OUT- BUT NO SOUND COMES FROM HER LIPS-
SO- YOU DON'T RECOGNIZE ME THEN- LOOK INTO MY EYES- I DON'T WONDER THAT YOU DON'T-GO AWAY- WHAT BRINGS YOU HERE?
AND YOU ASK- WHAT BRINGS ME HERE - YOU - HOW WELL YOU KNOW WHAT BRINGS ME HERE-
LET GO MY ARM- YOU'RE BREAKING MY ARM- LET GO, I SAY- I'LL CALL FOR HELP!
WELL - I CAME TO GET YOU - TO TAKE YOU AWAY WITH ME - YOU BELONG TO ME - THAT'S WHAT BRINGS ME HERE -
ANOTHER SECOND ELAPSES AND WE'LL GO ON WITH OUR STORY TOMORROW.
SIDNEY SMITH

HELLO, BOB YOU LOOK WORRIED
I AM - I'VE GOT TO SEE MAC
HELLO BOB - WHAT'S THE ROW?

TOOTS AND CASPER

BY JIMMY MURPHY

EXTRA!
SOPHIE HOOFER HAS WITHDRAWN HER SUIT FOR DIVORCE AND THE FAMOUS TRIAL IS ENDED!
I THOUGHT ALL THE TIME THAT SOPHIE WOULD CALL OFF THE DIVORCE WHEN SHE HEARD I'M A DUKE, BUT I WISH SHE LOVED ME FOR MYSELF INSTEAD OF MY TITLE!
THE TRIAL IS OVER AND WE'RE JUST AS MUCH IN THE DARK AS EVER ABOUT THAT TIME IN KENTUCKY!
BUT MAYBE SOMEDAY WE'LL HEAR THE LOW-DOWN!
WELL, IT'S THE ONLY DIRT SOPHIE EVER KNEW THAT SHE DIDN'T BLAB TO THE FOUR WINDS! I'M DISGUSTED WITH HER!
IT WAS A MEAN TRICK OF SOPHIE TO END THAT TRIAL WITHOUT TELLING ABOUT THAT TIME IN KENTUCKY!
I COULD HARDLY WAIT FOR YOU TO COME HOME, HUBBY! HAVE YOU HEARD ANYTHING MORE ABOUT THAT TIME IN KENTUCKY?
IT'S FOURTEEN DAYS SINCE I'VE HEARD FROM COLONEL HOOFER, TOOTS! SINCE HE'S BECOME A DUKE, AND IS SURROUNDED BY BIG SHOTS, HE'S FORGOTTEN ALL ABOUT HIS OLD PAL CASPER! THAT'S GRATITUDE FOR YOU!
DEAR OLD WOOF-WOOF! I KNOW YOU'LL TAKE ME BACK, BUT FIRST I HAVE LOADS OF SHOPPING TO DO! I'M A DUCHESS AND I MUST LOOK THE PART! WAIT UNTIL YOU SEE ME! I'LL BE LIKE THE UGLY DUCKLING WHO BECAME A BEAUTIFUL SWAN!
WE CAN HARDLY WAIT FOR SOPHIE TO CALL ON HER HUSBAND! NOW THAT HE HAS THE UPPER HAND WHAT WILL HIS ATTITUDE BE?
JIMMY MURPHY

The short squeeze in Auburn famous for its market gyrations was apparently in connection with its sharp reductions in the prices of its models and its announcement of an aggressive bid for a larger share of the business in the lower priced field. A considerable short position had apparently been built up in anticipation of an adverse market response to announcement of the price reduction but the shorts found a very limited supply of stock available to cover their commitments. The B M T issues rallied on the statement by President Dahl that he anticipated no difficulty in arranging to meet the $13 500 000 note maturity on Aug 1 although he said plans were as yet uncompleted.

During the first three days of the week the market had lost most of its upswing of the last three days of the preceding week.

While the strength of U S government bonds seemed to indicate confidence in the ability of congress to complete its economy and relief measures without important damage to the good work done with the taxation bill brokerage quarters were inclined to the view that a hesitant uncertain market would be about the best that could be expected until congress completes its work and adjourns.

The carrier offered its own bonds as security.

GRAIN BUYING POWER ABSENT

Prices Reach New Low, U S Wheat Carry-Over Blamed

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 9—With virtual exhaustion of sustained buying power [illegible] today wheat corn and oats [illegible] season low price records.

Exports [illegible] of 1 000 000 bushels of wheat by Canada served only to emphasize absence of foreign demand for wheat from the United States. Dispatches from Toronto quoted bank authority for assertions that low prices were due largely to a huge government financed carry over of wheat in the United States.

New low price records for the season were again reached in wheat [illegible] the fact that the market had fallen during eight successive days [illegible] times to induce rallies. There was also more or less evening up to prepare for the United States government crop report due after today's close. Trade estimates were that the official forecast of 193? domestic winter wheat production would be somewhere between 4 3 000 000 and 455 000 000 bushels as compared with the [illegible] private figures averaging 433 000 000.

An extreme setback of 9¼ cents a bushel within a week was shown at one stage of today's down turn. The rapidity and duration of this decline however laid the basis for some buying on behalf that at least a technical recovery was due. Under such circumstances offerings became light and the market went fractionally above yesterday's finish. Corn as well as wheat outdid season low price records but held better than wheat. Oats fluctuated narrowly following other cereals.

Provisions were steadied by hog market firmness.

GOVERNOR GETS WALKER CASE

Roosevelt To Study Removal Charges Against Gotham Mayor.

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., June 9 — The whole story of the financial transactions of Mayor James J. Walker and Russell T. Sherwood as they appear to Samuel Seabury was today in the hands of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who said that a public official whose income is obviously far greater than his salary is obligated to explain the source of that income.

Stressing the fact that he was acting not as counsel to the Hofstadter committee but as a private citizen, Seabury, in a letter accompanying data on the Walker case received by the governor last night, pointed to the evidence indicating that the missing Sherwood had handled nearly $1,000,000 in five years and reiterated his charge that Sherwood was actually Walker's fiscal agent.

Connection Denied

One of the main purposes of Seabury's drive against Walker was to link the mayor with these big transactions but the mayor denied Sherwood was his fiscal agent.

The Walker case, packed with potential dynamite, was dropped on the governor's doorstep last night less than a week after Roosevelt demanded that the New York investigators take action if they believed action warranted.

The governor, aloof when the papers calling Walker unfit and likening his explanation of his funds to a "tin box" alibi were delivered, indicated he will study the record before commenting.

Nobody at the capitol expects the case to be concluded before the Democratic national convention. The procedure in previous, similar cases took several weeks.

Seabury Conclusions

Among Seabury's conclusions was that the mayor and Sherwood received $16,000 from firms interested in taxicab legislation; that the mayor held $10,000 bonds of a firm which got a city contract; that the mayor acted improperly to procure a franchise for the Equitable Coach company and received a $10,000 letter of credit from one of the Equitable agents; that he improperly accepted "benefactions"; that he failed to explain satisfactorily the source of deposits of $961,000 made by Sherwood; that he made no due effort to find Sherwood; that he failed to produce complete records of his own transactions; that he permitted the designation in city compensation cases of doctors who split fees with the mayor's brother.

He said that generally since he assumed office the mayor's conduct has been characterized by "malfeasance and non feasance."

DO YOU INHALE?

Silence may be golden

... but is that why other cigarette advertising is generally silent on this question?

WHEN the truth hurts—it's only natural to avoid the subject! Inhaling has long been an "untouchable" topic in cigarette advertising. And no wonder! In every tobacco leaf—even the finest, the mildest—nature hides certain impurities which, when not removed, are unkind to delicate membranes!

And since, knowingly or unknowingly, every smoker inhales some part of the smoke from his or her cigarette, Lucky Strike developed that great scientific process which removes certain impurities. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Ohio Druids Will Hold 82nd Meet Here Sunday

Annual State Convention of Lodge To Be Held at Local Hall at Pearl and Columbia Streets; Local Man Is Noble Grand Arch.

The eighty-second annual state convention of the United Ancient Order of Druids will be held in Marion next Sunday.

Two sessions, a morning business session in which reports of the state officers will be placed in the hands of various state committees, and an afternoon business session of the state organization will be the two principal meetings of the convention.

Both sessions will be held in the Druids hall at Pearl and Columbia streets. Forty delegates and state officers are expected to attend the meeting.

It was originally planned to hold a two or three day meeting here this year, but this plan was abandoned a few days ago. The organization will not name officers this year, as this is done only once each two years.

Selection of the 1933 convention city and consideration of business matters originating in the committees are scheduled for the afternoon business session, which will close the meeting.

Luncheon will be served the visitors at the Jenner restaurant dining room.

H. L. Wade of 661 Wood street is noble grand arch, or head of the state organization. Other state officers are John Weller of Newark, deputy grand arch; John Braun of Dayton, grand secretary; Herman Stier of Dayton, grand treasurer; Ludwig Hofman of Dayton, grand marshal; August Held of Columbus, grand herald; Joseph Weber of Newark, junior past noble grand arch.

Jesse Crenshaw is head of Marion Grove No. 27, U. A. O. of Druids. Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the convention are Philip Eberl, Otto Hiltenbrand, James M. Coste, George Dell and Henry Brollinger.

CHARGED WITH SALE OF MORTGAGED RING

J. S. Layman of this city, arrested last night on an affidavit filed in municipal court by John Spaulding of Spaulding Bros., jewelers, charging him with selling a diamond ring on which a mortgage is held by the jewelers, was held by the police today pending a hearing before Municipal Judge W. R. Martin.

In the affidavit, Spaulding charged that on March 5 of last year Layman purchased a diamond ring valued at $150 on a monthly payment plan and a short time later sold the ring without completing his payments.

SANDUSKY GETS CHURCH MEET

Lutheran Sunday School Group Picks Place for Next Session.

Rev. E. J. Goedeking of Sulphur Springs, O., was reelected president of the North Central Ohio Lutheran Sunday school association and Sandusky was chosen as the place for the 1933 convention, at a business session of the fifteenth convention of the association yesterday afternoon at Emanuele Lutheran church here.

Attendance yesterday afternoon and last night reached approximately 500 delegates and guests. The auditorium was filled last night when Rev. Eugene Poppen of Detroit, Mich., delivered an address on Gustavus Adolphus, the Swedish king credited with saving the Protestant religion during the 30 Years' war. The church world is observing the three hundredth anniversary of his death this year.

Ervin Lutz of Bucyrus was elected vice president of the association. Other officers elected were Mrs. Henry Young of Cardington, secretary; Charles Pfeifer of Upper Sandusky, treasurer; Miss Irma Smith of Union Corners, statistician; Rev. Henry Young of Cardington, leader in devotions; Mrs. William Unger of Bucyrus, leader in singing. The 1933 convention in Sandusky will be held some time in June.

The representative body elected officers yesterday afternoon in a meeting preceding the second session. The convention opened with discussion of Sunday school problems.

Mrs. G. F. Stengel of Bellevue presented a paper yesterday afternoon, "The Christian Training of the Child after the Pattern of the Nazareth Home." Mrs. Louis Linder, also of Bellevue, led the discussion on child training which followed the paper. A massed choir, directed by Mrs. Unger, sang yesterday afternoon and last night.

Transportation
...friend of the farmer, manufacturer, merchant

JUST as it takes rain to turn the farmer's seed into a plant, and sun to turn the growing grain into a golden harvest, it takes TRANSPORTATION to turn that harvest into cash

That is why efficient Transportation means just as much to the farmer as fertile soil and favorable weather Soil and sun and rain can merely grow the crops Only when TRANSPORTATION moves the crops to market—carries them to the buyer—can the farmer receive his payment for them

And to the manufacturer and merchant TRANSPORTATION is likewise a right hand man—a friend For without Transportation the trader's commodities would find no market—the products of factory and warehouse would have little worth

At all times—especially in these difficult times—the Big Four takes its responsibilities to the farmer manufacturer and merchant to heart It pledges every effort to cooperate by providing an increasingly efficient service for taking your products to the buyer

One Wheel Gone
Florida News

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS reports resources for feeding the thousands of veterans at Washington are about exhausted and Police Superintendent Glassford prepared a notice to the bonus seekers that the authorities tomorrow will gladly furnish transportation out of the city for those ready to return home

In other words Here is your hat what is your hurry? The government's attitude was different when men were needed to fight the country's battles

THESE MEN that went to Washington to ask for justice are requested to go about their business because the fearful drain on national resources that feeding them would involve could not be endured The government has been spending six cents a day to feed them that would be $300 a day for 5 000 men It makes you laugh to remember what the government spent to feed Belgian children Turkish children Armenian children and the deserving of Mesopotamia

IT SEEMS STRANGE to read in an Associated Press dispatch that near Washington military posts have been restricted officers and men understand that they are to stand ready for any emergency duty that they may be called upon to perform This of course refers to the presence of veterans in Washington

It was said after the Civil war that it would have been cheaper if the government had bought the slaves and freed them instead of fighting about them

It certainly would be cheaper also more decent to feed the former soldiers demanding justice than to use today's standing army to suppress them

Near a powder magazine one should not play with matches

CYRUS H K CURTIS whose genius never fails him prints a picture of the national water wagon with the near hind wheel falling off labeled "Rockefeller"

The withdrawal of John D Rockefeller Jr from financial support of the Anti Saloon league is disturbing

To have the richest friend of prohibition declare the amendment a failure just after the failure of a bank containing Anti-Saloon League funds is almost enough to make you think Providence itself is no longer 'dry' and has gone back to the days when water was changed to wine for the wedding feast.

However it takes thirty-six states to take anything out of the Constitution, and the wets should not rejoice prematurely

It is believed by some wets usually well informed, that another very conspicuous American, also absolutely dry hitherto, as well as a total abstainer will in a day or two confirm Mr Rockefeller's opinion that prohibition has failed

MOST DISTRESSING to prohibitionists who still believe prohibition a success is news from Jacksonville Fla that Mark Wilcox West Palm Beach lawyer in favor of repealing the eighteenth amendment will probably go to Congress in place of Mrs Ruth Bryan Owen who is dry like her father the late William J Bryan

PREFERRED CLAIM OF COUNTY DENIED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 9. County funds and uninvested funds of a trust on deposit in a commercial account at a bank must be handled the same as other deposits in closed banks under decisions by the Ohio supreme court.

The decisions, involving thousands of dollars in claims, were handed down yesterday.

In both cases the high tribunal held that the funds were not preferred claims to be paid prior to liquidation of ordinary deposits.

Thus the supreme court reversed the appeals court of Monroe county in a case involving $17,000 deposited by the county treasurer in a bank which later closed. The county had sought to compel the state superintendent of banks to pay its claim in full.

JOBS INCREASE AT 319 OHIO FIRMS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 9—Three hundred and nineteen out of 910 concerns reporting to the bureau of business research at Ohio State University had employment gains in May as compared with April, it was shown today by the bureau's monthly survey.

Gains of one to two per cent were reported by the food products, stone, clay and glass products, textile products and the vehicles group. Another 129 concerns, including miscellaneous manufacturing groups, had no further declines.

Industrial employment as a whole, however, fell off one per cent from April and the total volume in May was [illegible] per cent less than in the same month a year ago. For the first five months of 1932 total employment averaged [illegible] per cent below the same period last year.

LEAVENS RESIGNS STATE ROAD POST

Surveyor Acts When Highway Department Replaces His Appointees.

pointees had been handling the bulk of the state work here for several years, working part time for the state and part time for the county. He said he did not know who was replacing his men but the orders had come through the highway department making the change.

O. W. Merrell, state highway director, could not be reached this morning for a statement. H. D. Schoonover of Mt. Gilead, division engineer and immediate superior of Leavens as resident engineer, said he had no statement to make when reached at his office in Columbus this morning. Leavens said he sent a copy of the resignation to Schoonover.

The Associated Press asked Grover Snyder of Marion, director of maintenance in the state highway department, for a statement on the resignation this morning. Snyder asserted that he had no knowledge of the Leavens case the press report said.

Held Post Eight Years

Leavens has been resident engineer approximately eight years. During that time he has retained Caldwell as assistant resident engineer and has employed principally the men who were removed by the department, he said.

Leavens said he receive no additional compensation for his service as resident engineer, but the state paid a fraction of his salary as county surveyor for handling the job. When Caldwell, deputy county surveyor, was on state work his time was charged to the state highway department and not to the county, resulting in savings to the county, Leavens explained.

Other savings to both the state and the county were effected through this arrangement, he said, the county surveying instrument and truck being used frequently in state highway work and the state maintaining the part time salaries of several men employed to [illegible] county work.

So far as could be learned here this morning, no successor to Leavens had been named. Leavens said he was of the opinion the the department would follow its plan throughout the state of setting up a state highway department office here with its separate personnel and equipment.

DRY QUESTION CHIEF ISSUE

Prohibition Looms as Major Problem of Both Party Conventions at Chicago.

By The Associated Press

Prohibition, the unbidden guest of politics for a decade, has rated for the Chicago conventions with a seat on the platform.

The White House took occasion last night to repudiate reports that President Hoover had approved a resubmission plank for the Republican party, but other leaders of the party indicated that such a plank is receiving approbative consideration. James R. Garfield, who is writing the platform, has declined to discuss it.

Governor Roosevelt of New York in an interview last night said he believed the Democratic party, which he hopes to lead as presidential candidate in November, will clearly indicate in its platform a way to abrogate the Eighteenth amendment. His own views on prohibition as pronounced in 1930, he added, have not changed. At that time he said the control of liquor should be returned to the states.

McAdoo Has Plan

Another outstanding Democrat, William Gibbs McAdoo, studied today the reaction to his suggestion that a national referendum authorized by congress be conducted next year at which all the people could vote yes or no on the question "shall the Eighteenth amendment be repealed?"

The referendum under the McAdoo suggestion would be advisory. He believes it is the quickest possible solution of the problem.

John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s pronouncement that in his opinion prohibition has failed and that both major parties should present resubmission planks continues to draw prominent comment, commendatory and condemnatory.

"Prohibition," said Dr. Clarence True Wilson, who termed Rockefeller's statement "unworthy of him," "gave us ten years of unbroken prosperity and it will bring it back."

Of more concern to politicians of both parties than the spoken opinions of individuals, however, were developments in states where prohibition has been an issue at polls. Of particular pertinence was the emphasis prohibition is receiving in parts of the South long listed as dry.

Referendum Approved

The Louisiana legislature gave final approval yesterday to a referendum on repeal or modification of the Eighteenth amendment.

In the fourth Florida congressional district Mark Wilcox, who bid for nomination in Tuesday's Democratic primary on a platform advocating repeal, maintained a 5,000 vote lead over Representative Ruth Bryan Owen. Mrs. Owen, whose father William Jennings Bryan was one of Democracy's outstanding advocates of prohibition, favored a referendum plank.

The prohibition issue was a factor in three other Florida congressional districts and in but one of these, the Third, was an avowed dry in the lead.

At Richmond thousands of Virginia Democrats gathered today in convention with prohibition the dominant subject, second only to endorsement of Harry Flood Byrd as their choice for presidential candidate.

Adding his voice to those of other Democratic leaders on the prohibition question, former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri gave expression yesterday to a proposal that beer and wine of limited alcoholic content be legalized by congress as a tax raising measure. Reed, a favorite son candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said congress could legalize manufacture of such beer and wine acting fairly within the limits of the constitution. He urged that the Democratic platform avoid any prohibition plank which might involve postponing definite action for three or four or five years.

For Resubmission; Wants Politics Out

NEW YORK, June 9. John R. Mott, president of the International Missionary council and of the World's Alliance of the Y. M. C. A., was quoted today in a special cable to the Times from London as saying that he had come to favor resubmission of the prohibition question to the people of the United States if some way could be found to keep the matter clear of partisan politics.

Regard Hoover as Resubmission Backer

WASHINGTON, June 9. Republican leaders definitely counted President Hoover in favor of the principle of prohibition resubmission today as convention plans moved ahead.

It was reemphasized at the White House, however, that Mr. Hoover has not approved a specific prohibition plank for the platform.

Congressional chieftains did not hesitate to affirm their belief that the head of the party had indicated acceptance of the resubmission principle.

Meanwhile the President was assembling his forces for the convention next week.

The only contest in prospect at the convention is on prohibition.

Republicans on Capitol Hill who last Sunday decided in favor of the resubmission plank are on notice to be ready to leave congress if necessary for the platform contest. A drive in the convention for a repeal plank is feared by the party command.

To all appearances prohibitionists in congress are marking time to await the convention's decision. No effort has been made to reassemble the conference of prohibitionists which Tuesday night discussed a dry fight at the convention.

Word from Indiana today of the resubmission plank in the state Republican platform added strength to gossip over the attitude of the President. Senator Watson, the administration leader, comes from Indiana.

GROUPS WILL SEEK WALKER DISMISSAL

NEW YORK, June 9. William J. Schieffelin, chairman of the New York committee of 1,000, today sent a telegram to Governor Roosevelt announcing that formal charges against Mayor Walker, in process of preparation, will be forwarded to the governor by the committee.

Maurice P. Davidson, chairman of the executive committee of the committee, announced that the New York Society for the Prevention of Crime and the Citizens union would join the committee of 1,000 in presenting the charges to the governor. He added that the City Affairs committee also was contemplating joining the other three bodies in the action.

3 SUSPECTS HELD ON THEFT CHARGES

Two Arrested in Connection with Stolen Grain

Three Marion county men are awaiting arraignment in municipal court on charges of [illegible] following their arrest last night by Sheriff [illegible] and deputies and police.

William Ashworth of the Marseilles-Galion road in Salt Rock township was arrested on a warrant charging that he received 50 bushels of clover seed valued at $200 stolen from the Frank Grady farm south of here. The charge was brought by R. S. Riley, tenant on the Grady farm, officers said. Clark Miller, 30, of Marion, was arrested in Delaware yesterday charged with the same offense. He was brought here last night for arraignment in municipal court.

Sanford Beckel, 30, of Richland township, was arrested on a charge of stealing gasoline and small articles from the Herman Ivy stone quarry in Richland township. Part of the loot was recovered. The theft occurred Tuesday night.

FAT MEN!

Take This Doctor's Advice

Gentlemen: I've repeatedly read your ads quoting testimonial letters. I have one to offer which goes them all one better. On August 24, 1931, my physical condition forced me to seek medical aid. After being advised by a local physician I sought and found a doctor who runs one of the leading hospitals in Hudson county. On the above date I weighed 214 lbs. (only 5 ft. 4½ inches in height). Also an advanced cardiac [illegible] condition [illegible] blood pressure 170. Only 46 years old.

After a thorough examination he instructed me to take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in warm water every morning with a diet similar to yours.

This morning, October 21, 1931, less than 2 months, I've lost 41 lbs. My present weight 173 lbs., blood pressure 138 (normal). I feel better than in years and am told I look years younger. (Signed) [illegible] Shapiro, Brooklyn, N. Y., October 21, 1931.

Millions of people the world over are taking the little daily dose of Kruschen because they know that it keeps them feeling fit [illegible]

Trouble Shooter Dawes

There [illegible] the eighteen [illegible] that the federal administration needed another Reconstruction Finance Corp Charles G Dawes would be asked to serve as its president. There will not need to be another however. The first one fortunately enough to have Mr Dawes as its president has done all that can be expected of it.

Unexpectedly he has resigned. The nation's reaction is that of a patient who is alarmed when his doctor unexpectedly announces that he is not coming the next day. But the doctor's reassurance is soothing. "Now that the balancing of the national budget is assured the turning point toward eventual prosperity in this country seems to have been reached." Is Mr Dawes' way of putting the matter.

From a gentleman of Mr Dawes' well known blunt outspokenness a speech like this is genuinely comforting. There could be found few voices even among Mr Dawes' enemies willing to declare that he is the kind of a trouble shooter who would leave his task before it was finished. If he says the Reconstruction Finance Corp is well organized and capable of serving Americans it must be so.

President Hoover spokesman for the people in such matters, has expressed their appreciation for what Mr Dawes has been willing to do in this emergency as in all emergencies which have demanded his straightforward tactics and keen intellect. It is out of style to wear the Pollyanna smile and catch glimpses of the bluebird these gloomy days, but when the man whose financial judgment is respected above that of all other contemporaneous Americans says that balancing the national budget was the turning point toward eventual prosperity even skeptics should be willing to lend an ear.

Those who may have gained the impression that so-called "big business" and predatory wealth were the only elements not enthusiastic over the public service of Senator Brookhart may now correct this viewpoint by appraising the judgment of Iowa voters who decided to return him to private life.

Distinguished Convert.

There will be many prohibitionists unable to agree with the reasoning that turned John D Rockefeller Jr from a notable champion of prohibition into an advocate of repeal of the 18th amendment. None of them however will deny him the praise that is due sincerity.

At the outset it should be pointed out that Mr Rockefeller states specifically in the letter to Dr Nicholas Murray Butler which revealed his change of attitude that he remains a champion of temperance. He has not deserted from the thinning ranks of the anti-prohibitionists; he merely has stated frankly his disagreement with their tactics.

The 18th amendment carried the hopes of millions of people who believed that the saloon was a heavy millstone tied around the neck of a nation which was destined to rise to unprecedented eminence. It was the answer of a moral people to the challenge of a dangerous condition. There did not exist perception penetrating enough to foresee its effect unfortunately.

That effect obvious enough now is causing sweeping defections among former champions of the amendment. Mr Rockefeller is one of many—a distinguished convert to the growing body of Americans who on a basis of reason are working for its repeal. Perhaps the most interesting passage in the Rockefeller letter is the following one dealing with the procedure of attaining a condition of temperance through a new approach:

> There are many who feeling as I do that the 18th amendment has not accomplished the object which its enactment sought to attain would willingly favor its repeal were some alternate method that gave promise of better results offered as a substitute. In my judgment it will be difficult for our people as a whole to agree in advance on what the substitute shall be and so unlikely that any one method will fit the entire nation that repeal will be far less possible if coupled with an alternate measure.

The position of drys who block movement toward repeal with the demand for a substitute that will meet their approval is rapidly becoming untenable. Mr Rockefeller has made a valuable [illegible] to the settlement that soon must be [illegible] tremendous issue.

The cross-country trips of the bonus [illegible] tachments may not accomplish much of anything but it's one sure thing that from the [illegible] viewpoint of the seven year old [illegible] who visited Marion with the company of [illegible] Wednesday the pilgrimage will be [illegible] glorious success.

If the movement to obtain refunds for special assessments that landowners in Marion county and other sections of Ohio have paid on state highway construction meets with success it can truthfully be said that farm relief efforts are finally [illegible] results that count.

Maybe the Wyandot county cow that kicked over a lantern and caused a barn to burn down possibly was following a prevalent modern tendency, but as is too often the case with kickers she did more damage than good.

Word from Home

National curiosity is partially satisfied by a brace of resolutions introduced in the Louisiana legislature. Senator Long, the congressional Huey, of passing notoriety has critics at home too.

Down in the Creole state to contribute his magic touch to a tax program sponsored by the man who is filling in as governor while the Kingfish is up in Washington Senator Long was advised acidly by certain members of the legislature to waste no time getting back to Washington where his nose would be far enough away to keep it out of business in which he no longer had any legitimate concern.

He grinned of course. The senator's a hard lad to sit upon. Like Jimmy Walker he is one of those rare fellows with a crust so tough that neither jab nor jest can penetrate it. Sincere people have been trying to prick the balloon that keeps Mr Long afloat for a good many years and it soars high all the time.

It is good to know however that Louisiana isn't an unquestioning party to the trick that has been played upon the greatest legislative body on earth. At least the flamboyant Huey can not get by without continuing to make good at home. There's always a chance that his political machine will blow up and send him wordless and disconsolate to a region where there will be none to listen to words that are only words.

The skillful platform builder is one capable of inserting a plank not so thoroughly saturated that dry candidates can't safely walk on it without wearing non-skids.

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR ROYAL S COPELAND

Omitting Vacation Not Economy

Nerve fatigue is a term used to describe a run down condition of the nervous system. It is often incorrectly used by the layman to describe a condition of simple nervousness which in this case may not be a symptom of nerve fatigue.

The body performs its daily work by reason of energy derived chiefly from carbohydrates or starches in the diet. This energy material is stored in the muscles and liver in the form of a substance called glycogen which is released for active work by nerve impulses sent to the muscles and liver. Work can be accomplished only by the burning up of glycogen. Labor too long continued will make excessive demands upon the nerve impulses and nerve exhaustion will result.

Fortunately ordinary nerve fatigue can be relieved by short periods of rest but complete nerve exhaustion requires several months or longer for recovery. Indeed the human body can survive much longer without food than it can without rest or sleep.

Nerve fatigue can develop into a serious condition the mechanism of the body becoming seriously disturbed. Indigestion inflammation of the large intestines constipation insomnia and constitutional disease often are caused by prolonged nerve fatigue. The sufferer from this condition also is usually in a state of fear. He worries is anxious and cannot carry on with his daily work.

Nerve fatigue is often overlooked and neglected. Persistent tired feeling headache restlessness and dull and vague pains are attributed to excessive work but too often nothing is done about them.

These signs should be given immediate attention. A visit should be made to the physician so that by thorough examination he can discover the physical status of the body. Special tests are used to determine the presence or absence of nerve fatigue. After this is established the diet can be regulated and if necessary certain treatment given.

Rest is often the only treatment necessary to restore health and is best prescribed in the form of a vacation. A vacation is a health investment and it is often more economical to take a vacation than be forced to prolonged rest because of physical exhaustion.

In good health we live longest and enjoy ourselves most and this desirable state can exist only when we give the body the necessary care and rest. Be sure to get six to eight hours of sleep each day and that your diet is simple but nutritious. It should contain an abundance of fresh vegetables fruits milk cream butter and eggs. Whenever possible get out of doors and relax in the sun.

If you are worried do not feel up to par are easily irritated or apprehensive and tired I beg of you not to disregard these signs. The best thing is to consult with your physician.

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington June 9 — Speaker John N Garner employs a very significant gesture whenever he is approached in the capital and questioned concerning his chances of obtaining the Democratic nomination for President at Chicago this month.

He holds up his right hand index finger extended and shakes it back and forth in front of his face several times.

That means he told a group of newspapermen in his office the morning following the somewhat stormy state convention at Houston that gave him 46 votes that I have nothing to say on that subject.

What he thinks about it all is a secret that perhaps only he knows.

Consider for example that morning after the state Democratic convention at Houston ended a declaration for resubmission of the prohibition question had been adopted.

To newspapermen who assembled in his office 15 minutes prior to the opening of the house Garner seemed vastly more intrigued and interested in a frock coat he was wearing for one of the first [illegible] times in his career than anything that had happened in his home state the day before.

The house was to hold its annual memorial service for deceased members that morning and the speaker had dressed for the occasion.

I don't have very much to say about what I wear said Garner. Mrs Garner does all the deciding. She just lays out every morning the clothes I am to wear that day. And I put 'em on.

Do you suppose Mrs James Hamilton Lewis picks out [illegible] clothes the senator is to wear each day? some one asked him.

If she does Garner [illegible] she must be some picker.

On and on went the conversation in this fashion. Finally some one asked Anything to say about Houston Mr Speaker?

Up went that right hand with index finger extended—

And they all knew it was no use.

In the regular course of events the national committees of the two parties fix the number of delegates to be sent to the conventions Usually they allot to each state a minimum of twice the number of congressmen and senators Under this arrangement Ohio Republicans were entitled to 11 delegates at large four representing the two senators four the two congressmen at large and 44 district delegates two from each congressional district This makes a total of 52 votes But the bonus of three was added giving the Buckeye Republicans a voting strength of 55

Unlike the Democrats each of the Ohio Republican delegates will have a full vote The Democratic vote is split up some of the delegates at large casting but a half vote under a rule of the national committee The Ohio Democrats will have 1? delegates at large with eight votes and 44 district delegates with 44 votes

Each party in Ohio is entitled to the same number of presidential electors — 26 — representing each congressman and senator to which the state is entitled The federal Constitution fixed the electoral representation

How One Woman Ended Eczema

Severe Case All Over Her Body, But Now She Is Better

Here is just another case of how Peterson's Ointment conquers the terrible itching of eczema after other treatments had failed.

The same kind of a story comes from all over the country. After others fail Peterson's Ointment succeeds.

This letter from Charlotte Brandeau of Swansea Mass is worth reading: "I used Peterson's Ointment and soap for a very severe case of eczema. It was all over my body. I have tried many things to cure it but not one of them gave me a cure. I saw the ad of Peterson's Ointment in the Fall River Herald and now I am better. I do not go without your ointment and soap in the house and recommend it very much."

Get a box of Peterson's Ointment at any drug store in America for 35 cents—it won't disappoint you.—Adv.

Eczema in Water Blisters Burned Terribly. Cuticura Healed.

My little boy had eczema. The trouble first started on his left arm. It was in little patches of pimples and water blisters and itched and burned terribly. He scratched until the eruptions would bleed and they looked badly. Later the trouble spread to his body, the top of his left ear and up through his hair. His clothing aggravated the breaking out on his body especially when he got warm.

I sent for free samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I purchased more and in about a month he was healed. (Signed) Mrs Earl Wells, 1438 S Lawrence St., Wichita Kans, Aug 6 1931.

han to buy adventure. He remembered the toast of the old gang in his squadron. Hard bitten hard eyed men rose and drank "bottoms up" to the words "Anywhere but here."

Stevens wiped an ugly little sub caliber machine gun with a bit of oily cloth. He chewed rhythmically his faded eyes looking at nothing in particular. He had accepted the airplane as he accepted everything else unquestioningly.

He saw no romance or adventure in the task before him.

If he had to live his life over again he would have chosen a different job. One which didn't call for always being ready to shoot first and hit the bull's eye on the first shot.

"There she is!" Emory's exulting voice cut through the blurred snarl of the motor. "The same amphibian. Over there."

Far below hurtling over the corrugated blue washboard that was the lake appeared a tiny airplane heading straight out from the shore. Jerry throttled his engine, turned and carefully jockeyed the monoplane into its position between the sun and the speeding plane fifteen thousand feet below.

The kidnaper's ship slid down to the water, taxied to a tiny pinpoint of black in the midst of the glittering blue water, then took off again and headed back toward land. The monoplane holding its strategic position with ease followed the amphibian over the rolling hills which nestled close to the lake shore and across the flat prairies beyond the hills. Miles followed miles until at last those in the fleeing ship turned abruptly toward the southeast.

At an altitude of twenty thousand feet the three in the monoplane watched the orderly lake front suburbs slide smoothly beneath their silvery wing.

"I have a hunch," Jerry said, "that we're in for a long hop. That fellow down there is sticking to a course that's as straight as a plumb line. We may as well settle down. Emory, take the stick while I stretch my legs."

Theodore P. Hamilton capped the black deuce with the red ace, deftly swept the cards into a pack and began to shuffle. He looked cool and comfortable in the spotless white linen suit which one of the house servants had laid out before lunch. It fitted his tall thin frame as though it had been cut to measure. Sitting there at the table, his bony face half hidden from the light, he was a perfect picture of the successful American business man enjoying a moment's diversion from the routine of his work. His hair was graying but his close-clipped mustache was as black as his jutting eyebrows.

He glanced idly about the room and catching the saturnine green eyes of the half drunk Mallory nodded pleasantly, impersonally. It was little short of amazing, the solitaire player mused, how quickly Mallory had broken. Half back on the county polo team, a golfer, tennis and handball star of considerable note, the man had gone completely to pieces under the strain of nearly three weeks of enforced idleness on this heat encompassed isle.

The president of the United States Textile corporation considered the matter and decided that unless they were freed before long someone would have to kill Mallory. He was startled by his own thoughts. A month ago he would have viewed the impending murder of a fellow citizen with horror. Now he found himself judging Mallory impartially and looking upon his possible taking off abstractly, without concern.

Williams too he could do without. He remembered the clothes in which Williams had arrived. Too niftily cut they had been. Blue pin-checked and with slanting pockets. The man was always interrupting his solitaire with his silly blither about Chicago and the grain market.

He wondered if Williams knew how he hated him. If this soul destroying tension was not lessened he, Hamilton, might be driven to doing something about it. He carefully placed a red seven upon a black eight.

Martin now. He pouted. His whole face pouted: black eyes, Roman nose, thin pink lips, they all pouted. His silence and moroseness was almost as irritating as Williams' unquenchable garrulity. Extremes amid all this heat were bad. If the man's eyes would not swivel around the room so. Those slightly popped eyes distracted Hamilton's attention from his solitaire and caused him to make exasperating blunders. He wondered whether Martin would stop looking like that if one asked him to desist. Or would he just sit there in stony silence and stare? Hamilton stole a glance at him and felt his nerve ends prickle. He [illegible] still staring.

The girl was a plucky one. Not his type perhaps, but he was conscious of a distinct admiration for the way she was holding her own against the weather and the men. When she had first arrived Hamilton had thought she would break down. She had eaten little. The [illegible] color had faded out of her [illegible] cheeks. She spent much of her time in her own room. When she emerged her eyes were [illegible]. But she had seemed [illegible] with the passing [illegible]. No doubt she had been [illegible] to, for with every new [illegible] she had become more [illegible] in [illegible]. It had been [illegible] watching her handle [illegible].

[illegible] enough, Hamilton did [illegible] Lucci. Of all the men on the boat he admired Lucci. Lucci was a man who was true to type. He [illegible] thought, talked [illegible] exactly like One-Shot Lucci, gangster chief. Hamilton [illegible] that even [illegible] had discovered that the gangster too was in love with the girl Nancy.

He had liked the way Lucci had parried Nancy's look of scorn when the gang [illegible] had [illegible] the [illegible] village that the girl would henceforth be regarded as his own [illegible] and brutal punishment. Mallory had gulped greedily at his champagne. Williams had flushed furtively. Martin had looked at Lucci with eyes like those of a rattle snake.

Yes, the fear of going mad with all these to watch. He shuffled the pack and dealt the cards into a [illegible] that he was greatly [illegible] a little [illegible]. The [illegible] were [illegible] too.

He wondered why the [illegible] his [illegible]. Excellent [illegible] wines and light [illegible]. Well-chosen [illegible] who had [illegible] prepared for [illegible]. The rooms were [illegible] in the rambling one story structure which had [illegible] erected for the [illegible] purpose of entertaining [illegible] must have [illegible] the [illegible] opportunity was given the [illegible] Hamilton [illegible] guards [illegible] a fight or a [illegible]. Madge's Quick Wits Avert Disaster When Ronald Loses Control of the Car

THERE is enough Celtic blood in me, even though it is well diluted, so that it sent a little rippling shiver down my spine at this revelation of Ronald's that he had told Marion he hoped never to see her again.

But I had no time to think of omens. Ronald was so lost in his remorse and mental torture that I think he actually had forgotten he was driving a car. Luckily we were going very slowly, and as the machine lurched to one side I put my hands upon the wheel and spoke sharply.

"Take your foot from the gas! Don't touch the brake."

Snapping Him Out of It

He obeyed me almost as if he were walking in his sleep, and I guided the car to the side of the road, stopped it with the emergency brake, reached past him and turned off the ignition switch. Then I turned to him, my throat constricting as I saw the look upon his face. He was in a self-hypnosis of mental agony. I was glad that he had appealed to me for [illegible] he was not fit to be alone in his present mood.

"Those were the last words I said to her," he went on in a monotone. "Will they be the last words I'll ever have a chance to say to her?"

I turned to him and slapped him first on one cheek and then on the other. They were not stinging blows, but they were sufficiently vigorous to bring him from his slumped position to an erect one, and to replace the blank, unseeing expression in his eyes with one of [illegible] surprise.

"I'm sorry, Ronald," I said, "but I had to do something to snap you out of this. Do you realize that you lost control of the car just now, and that if we had been going fast we would have been killed?"

He [illegible] his hand across his eyes as if he were awakening from a troubled sleep, then spoke contritely.

"I don't remember doing anything [illegible] the [illegible] I must be crazy [illegible] half [illegible] I think if I can't find her—"

"You're not helping to find her by acting this way," I told him with a [illegible] that I had to force. [illegible] yourself? Look at the way her mother is bearing up, and you, a man, are talking about going mad."

But it was only a boy trying to be a man who looked back at me, a lad indeed half-crazed with torture.

"I know," he said, "but they have only the kindness and love they gave her to remember, while I—. Tell me, did Marion say anything to you about me? I don't suppose she would, but if I just could know she didn't feel bitter."

It was time for a little judicious [illegible], I told myself. Luckily I didn't have to invent a story. I had the foundation for one in something Mary had said to me upon the day following Ronald's departure.

"Yes, she did say something to me," I said, "and I am going to tell you what [illegible] I would not violate her confidence, but I [illegible] to tell you this now."

Madge Tells a White Lie

"Oh! What is it?" he implored with an impulsiveness at my prelude which I could not blame him [illegible]. I had been only [illegible] time to concoct a believable [illegible].

"These were her words as nearly as I can remember them," I said, [illegible] as much of Mary's real speech as I could manage. "Aunt Madge, I'm terribly sorry about [illegible]. I've treated him so badly [illegible]. I'm afraid he's going to take a long time to get over it. I guess we're pretty even, though, for he said some horrid things to me when he went away. But he'll get over it after a while. I'm sure of that. And when he does you'll see little Marion ready for the clinch. I [illegible] give him a dirty deal. [illegible] I was looking sideways at that [illegible] Owen, but [illegible] I can't blame [illegible] me a beating, but I'm [illegible]. Maybe [illegible] was too sore at me to have [illegible] bearing a bit. If he'll be [illegible] I'd be [illegible], but he'll [illegible] around sometime [illegible] it will be before the [illegible] opens."

The Chief Arrives

I [illegible] breathless with my [illegible] effort, and I felt an [illegible] when Ronald gave a [illegible] cry and catching my [illegible] gripped it until I winched.

"Oh! How wonderful!" he cried. "[illegible] just as if I could be [illegible]. I'm all right now. I can [illegible] anything as long as I know I didn't hurt her. Shall I drive back now?"

[illegible] I salved my conscience with the reflection that I had saved the boy's sanity, and when he had left me I walked away to the school [illegible] hear when the white flag was to be hoisted to the flagpole as a signal to the kidnapers.
